PARENT CONNECTIONS

New Parenting Classes Now Forming!

The Rutherford County Juvenile Detention Center is excited to present Families in Action classes available to all families (traditional, single-parent, or blended) interested in creating harmony and stability in your home while raising your kids to be responsible, courageous, and prepared for independent life.

The challenge of successfully ushering children through their teen years has always been among parents' hardest task.

In today's society, where children seem to become adults overnight and often make decisions about drugs, sexuality, and violence before they understand the consequences, a parent's job is more important than ever. So how can you ensure that your teens develop the skills and character they need to thrive, without you losing your mind?

Families in Action will show you how! In six sessions packed with activities, discussion, real-world examples, and feedback you'll see parenting from a new perspective, plus techniques and insights for over-coming obstacles that will bring happiness and harmony into your home.

You will leave each session energized and motivated to make positive and realistic changes in your own family's life.

Join us at the next session and see the difference!

5 Red Flags to Look For in your Child

Title I Program Coordinator,
Nakita Watts

 Isolation
I know most teenagers do not like spending time with their families. But does your child /teen seem to be disconnected from everyone? If so, you need to start asking them questions.

 Depression
We all feel sad at times, but does your teen seem to be sad more often than happy. No longer laughs or smiles at things that use to make them happy. Loss of interest in activities that they use to enjoy. Do they feel a sense of hopelessness, always angry, poor performance, and changes in eating & sleeping habits? Then your teen could be exhibiting signs of depression.

 Extreme Mood Swings
Mood swings come through the process of puberty. Does your teen show extreme mood swings? Do they go from being deeply depressed to extremely happy? If so, then parents, I encourage you to talk to your teen to see what is going on in their life.

 Lies about Whereabouts
Is your teen constantly lying about where they are or what they are doing? If so, I strongly encourage you to find out why they are lying. This is an indication that they are hiding something.

 New Friendships
Have your teens substituted their old group of friends, who they grew up with, for now questionable friends? If so, I encourage you need to talk to your teen about their old friends and learn more about their new friends. Therefore, you'll know who is influencing your teen.

Parenting Classes are Limited to 12 parents and it's FREE!

THE FAMILY TOOLBOX

Tools designed to help build & strengthen family relationships

There are so many things in the world competing for the time and affection of our families. These distractions can put a strain on our relationships with our spouse and/or children. When both parents are working and the children are busy in different activities, often there is little time for the family to spend fun time together. Therefore, we should welcome the summer and make sure we designate some family time.

Many families may not be able to afford an out-of-state vacation to an amusement park or beach, but you can still have fun locally and on a budget. You can plan an outing to a local park, a museum, camping; you get the picture. You can decide together as a family or you can choose and surprise the children. This outing can be fun or educational.

Remember, every second you spend with your children is an investment. The more time you spend with them, the greater the return on your investment.

Summer Family Outings: Barfield Park & The Wilderness Station, Sports-Com Boro Beach, Gregory Mill Park, Cannonsburg Village, Discovery Center, Oakland's Historical House, or Stone Rivers National Battleground

RCJDC PROGRAMMING

JOB READINESS PROGRAM

Many of the detainees at RCJDC are of the age and desire to look for and inquire a job, but many don't know where to look or how to inquire for one. Our Job Readiness Program, is designed to give detainees information on job search resources, how to prepare a resume, fill out job applications, how to dress for an interview, as well as interviewing skills.

Landing a New Job Kits are available to all detainees that are released from RCJDC upon request. This resource will complement the job readiness skills that the teens work on while in detention and hopefully combine for a successful job search.

STD TESTING PROGRAM

There is a high positivity rate of gonorrhea and chlamydia in Rutherford County (one of the highest in the state). Gonorrhea and chlamydia are asymptomatic (presenting no symptoms of disease) resulting in undiagnosed cases. RCJDC can treat juveniles in our care - By statute in Tennessee, a physician can treat a minor without the parental consent for health issues, such as drug abuse, venereal disease (STD/STI) contraception and pre-natal care.

Our STD Program is voluntary and FREE to all juveniles being detained at our facility that are 14 years of age and older. Juveniles that participate, submit a urine sample. We work closely with the Rutherford County Health Department to ensure confidentiality.

When the health department reports a positive result, the goal is to make contact with the juvenile, NOT the parent/legal guardian, to inform them of a positive result and set them up for treatment.

Our goal is to have 100% collection rate, so we can do as much as we can to treat our detainees that may not know they are infected with gonorrhea and chlamydia.

the Risk is NOT knowing.
Get tested.

* Over the last fiscal year, this program has treated over 6% of our population for an STD.*

REAL WORLD HEALTH PROGRAM

Health Educators, from the Rutherford County Health Department, visit regularly to present an STD presentation that focuses on healthy relationships and sexual respect and safety. The detainees learn about sexual protection, making responsible decisions and avoiding risky behaviors. This program, provided by the Health Department, accompanied with our STD Testing Program is essential in STD treatment and prevention. Their time and service is invaluable.

Active Parenting of Teens: Families in Action

For Parents AND Teens

There's no denying it: parents and teens are often at odds. But in today's society where children seem to become adults overnight and where they often make decisions about drugs, sexuality, and violence before they understand the consequences, it's more important than ever that parents and teens build strong relationships and learn skills to handle the challenges that lie ahead. So how can you ensure that your teens develop the skills and character they need to not only survive but to thrive as they become more independent?

Active Parenting of Teens: Families in Action can help. This unique video and discussion program is developed around the premise that parents and teens are more likely to learn successfully when they learn together. Both parents and teens attend this program's six dynamic and fun sessions. You and your teen will spend part of each session in separate groups learning complementary skills. Then parents and teens come together for activities and discussion—a powerful learning experience for both of you.

The program is designed to break down barriers of communication, promote cooperation, and address challenges head-on. The time you and your teen spend in your groups will be packed with video examples, opportunities to practice new skills, and feedback from your group leaders. You'll learn skills that you can start using right away to put your family on a path towards greater harmony and stability.

Come together to learn how to:

- communicate without fighting.
 - develop real skills for real life.
 - avoid the risks today's teens face.
 - enjoy the journey to adulthood—together.
- ... and much more.
